CONFERENCE OVERVIEW
The main objective of the ADBIS series of conferences is to provide a forum for the dissemination of research accomplishments and to promote interaction and collaboration between the database and information system research and industrial communities from Central and East European countries and the rest of the world. The ADBIS conferences provide an international platform for the presentation of research on database theory, development of advanced DBMS technologies, and their advanced applications.

TOPICS OF INTEREST
• Data integration, interoperability, and data quality
• Data models and query languages
• Data warehousing, data mining, knowledge discovery
• Modern databases and information system applications
• New architectures for data management
• Privacy and security in trustworthy databases
• Query processing and optimization
• Theoretical foundations

WORKSHOPS
GPUs in Databases
Ontologies Meet Advanced Information Systems
Social Data Processing
Integrating Social Content in Decision Making
Data Management in Hydro-Meteorology Research
Data Mining Application in Biologically Inspired Databases
SLA Management for Data Services

ADBIS-VLDB 2013 GRANTS
VLDB 2013 will be held in Riva del Garda, Trento, Italy, on Aug 26-30, just before ADBIS. The VLDB Endowment is offering a number of fellowships to encourage participation to both the events from underrepresented parts of the world, with special reference to East Europe.
